

Quiz: L.6.1.A

1. Which sentence contains proper case pronouns?

- A. James saw his sister, and he smiled at her.
- B. James saw his sister, and him smiled at her.
- C. James saw him sister, and he smiled at she.
- D. James saw his sister, and him smiled at she.

2. These sentences are missing pronouns:

“_____ needs a permission slip?” Mara’s teacher asked.

“I do. _____ permission should I get, and to _____ should I give it?” Mara responded.

Which choice fills in the blanks with the correct case of each pronoun?

- A. “Whom needs a permission slip?” Mara’s teacher asked.
“I do. Whose permission should I get, and to who should I give it?” Mara replied.
- B. “Who needs a permission slip?” Mara’s teacher asked.
“I do. Whose permission should I get, and to whom should I give it?” Mara replied.
- C. “Whom needs a permission slip?” Mara’s teacher asked.
“I do. Who’s permission should I get, and to who should I give it?” Mara replied.
- D. “Who needs a permission slip?” Mara’s teacher asked.
“I do. Who’s permission should I get, and to whom should I give it?” Mara replied.

3. This sentence is missing pronouns:

_____ should go to the game with _____.

Which choice fills in the blanks with the correct case of each pronoun?

- A. She should go to the game with he.
- B. Us should go to the game with you.
- C. Me should go to the game with them.
- D. You should go to the game with her.

4. Read the letter below.

Dear Students,

Next Tuesday, Mr. Ronald Smith, author of several children's books, will visit our class. He will discuss his latest book, We Are All Funny. He will talk about his experiences writing for children, and we will have the opportunity to ask him questions. I'm sure you will be on your best behavior. Please see mine ahead of time if you would like to bring your camera or get him autograph.

Sincerely,
Mr. Lincoln

Which sentence in the letter has an error in pronoun use?

- A. Next Tuesday, Mr. Ronald Smith, author of several children's books, will visit our class.
  - B. He will discuss his latest book, We Are All Funny.
  - C. He will talk about his experiences writing for children, and we will have the opportunity to ask him questions.
  - D. I'm sure you will be on your best behavior.
  - E. Please see me ahead of time if you would like to bring your camera or get him autograph.
5. Select the pronouns from each bracket to correctly complete the sentences below.
- Ravi will complete _____ (he/his/him) assignment before _____ (us/we/our) class today. _____ (He/His/Him) promises to be prepared this time!

